DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1 and 4 are pending in the application.

This Office Action is in response to the Amendment filed on 12/22/03.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12/22/03 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

The objection to the drawing has been withdrawn in response to Applicant's argument.

The rejection of claims 1, 3 and 4 has been withdrawn in light of Applicant's amendment of the claims.

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112 1st paragraph for reasons set forth below.

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) for reasons discussed below.

New Grounds of Rejection Necessitated by Applicant's Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The written description requirement is set forth by 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph which states that the: “specification shall contain a written description of the invention. . . [emphasis added].” The written description requirement has been well established and characterized in the case law. A specification must convey to one of skill in the art that “as of the filing date sought, [the inventor] was in possession of the invention.” See Vas Cath v. Mahurkar 935 F.2d 1555, 1560 19 USPQ2d 1111, 1117 (Fed. Cir. 1991). Applicant may show that he is in “possession” of the invention claimed by describing the invention with all of its claimed limitations “by such descriptive means as words, structures, figures, diagrams, formulas, etc., that fully set forth the claimed invention.” See Lockwood v. American Airlines Inc. 107 F.3d 1565, 1572, 41 USPQ2d 1961, 1966 (Fed. Cir. 1997).

In analyzing whether the written description requirement is met, it is first determined whether a representative number of species have been described by their complete structure. Next, it is determined whether a representative number of species have been sufficiently described by other relevant identifying characteristics. The claims recite a bifunctional linker arm comprising a hydrocarbon, a protected secondary amine, and a hydroxyl group. The claimed genus potentially encompasses a large number of chemical compounds that comprises a secondary amine and a hydroxyl group since hydrocarbon can be any structure which comprises carbon and hydrogen. In view of this huge genus as claimed, the compounds listed in Table 1, 2 and 3 do not constitute a representative number of species for this vast genus. The specification also fails to describe the essential structure of said bifunctional linker that is responsible for their function as a bifunctional linker. The specification thus fails to describe the complete structure of the claimed invention and other identifying characteristics. Therefore, the written description requirement is not met.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Vinayak et al.

Vinayak et al teach a method of labeling an oligonucleotide bound at its 3' end to a polystyrene support by reacting the oligonucleotide with an amino-linker phosphoramidite reagent (See Figure 2, especially structure 1 in Figure 2, which is a bifunctional linker comprising hydrocarbon, protected secondary amine and hydroxyl group, and Figure). The protected amino group is detritylated (thus deprotected) then reacted with an activated label, such as TAMRA-CO₂H. Other labels taught for use in the method include: 6-FAM, rhodamines (see col. 14, 1st structure) and fluoresceins (see col.13-17). Therefore, Vinayak et al. disclose the instantly claimed inventions.
